The Best of England and Canada...

JEZ LOWE & JAMES KEELAGHAN

Together and separately, Jez and James have been welcomed by Green Willow audiences for more than two decades. Songs like "Back In Durham Gaol" and "These Coal Town Days", highlighting his roots in northeast England have made Jez Lowe a highly respected singer and songwriter in traditional circles around the world. Likewise, Alberta-born James Keelaghan is a master lyricist and storyteller whose songs draw on both his imagination and, in the case of "Cold Missouri Waters", on true life. James' life as an artist is one that is a perpetual journey on many levels.
